Spring Care Program

Believe it or not, spring is right around the corner. Pretty soon, the white powdery fluff will be gone and the vernal magic of New England will suddenly be appearing right before our eyes! With all the precipitation of last fall and winter, we are in for a terrific growing season!

We have some new and exciting additions to our services this year read on to find out! It's time again to get our Spring Care Program into motion.

Get some new ideas and see our work up close. Schedule a personal tour of our gardens and nursery!

Mulching:

Besides making your landscape look more appealing; a layer of mulch keeps weeds down, preserves soil moisture, helps prevent erosion and moderates soil temperature.

Pruning:

Pruning can actually stimulate growth. Pruning back a weak branch in late winter or early spring will often cause the new growth that replaces it to grow much faster.

Planting:

Early spring is one of the best times to plant new trees and shrubs. Temperature and soil moisture ~ two of the three most critical factors affecting transplant success ~ are perfectly aligned in spring.

Transplanting:

Early spring is a great time to move trees and shrubs while they are still dormant.

Fertilization:

Lush green foliage and large abundant blooms can only occur when the plants are fed properly. Applying the micronutrients which our soils typically lack will also help protect your plants through times of stress. Spring feedings will encourage healthy and sustainable growth throughout the season.

Weed Control:

Applying control methods before weed seeds can germinate will ensure less maintenance throughout the season. Call for more details!
